Careers with UN Organisations

Penny Longman Careers Consultant 27 October 2021

Practical points

- Please keep mics on mute unless you'd like to ask a question;
- Use the chat box lots;
- Trouble with sound? Trying leaving and coming back, try a different browser;
- The session will be recorded and put on Moodle under 'Exploring Career Options (Recordings)' - there is a folder specifically about UN organisations.

Coming up ...

LSE International Organisations Week – 1-6 Nov (all tickets now sold).

Lunchtime sessions after reading week – 1-1.30 pm:

Finding and funding a Phd – Tues 9 Nov and Fri 12 Nov (not Wed) session covers main routes into PhDs in the UK.

PhD applications– Tues 16 and Wed 17 Nov.

Job hunting strategies – Tues 30 Nov and Wed 1 Dec.

LinkedIn – why use it and how to get the most from it – Tues 7 and Wed 8 Dec.

Save the date

Global and Public Health Careers panel discussion – Wed 24 Nov at 5.30 pm (UK time)

Hear from a panel of speakers with experience in a range of health settings including:

- Milca Agbenou Medical Project Manager, Save the Children
- Simon Kadima Technical Officer, WHO Eastern Mediterranean (PH4D alumnus)
- Linda Markova Capacity Development Officer, NCD Alliance (HPPF alumna)

(further speakers to be confirmed)

Opportunity

Become a Careers Project Assistant (15 hours' paid work).

Organise a series of student-led careers seminars for Spring term.

More details here.

What we will cover today

The UN funds, programmes and specialised agencies.

Some UN terminology.

Some routes in.

Example UN organisations: WHO, UNFPA, WFP, UNV.

Insider insight.

Tips, courtesy of Michael Emery (when at UNFPA).

Next steps?

Funds, Programmes and Specialised Agencies

Programmes and Funds include UNHCR, UNFPA, WFP, UNDP, UNICEF "The programmes and funds are financed through voluntary rather than assessed contributions. The Specialized Agencies are independent international organizations funded by both voluntary and assessed contributions."

This means politics and diplomacy can be very important.

WHO is one of the Specialised Agencies, along with FAO (Food and Agriculture Organisation) and numerous others.

Systems vary across different agencies/programmes.

Some UN Terminology and its implications

Positions graded as 'P3', 'P4' etc

(P3 usually need 5 years' experience, P4 8 years' experience, PhD 'counts' for half the number of years' experience)

If you have less experience, look for 'P1', 'P2' jobs (see also YPP – next slide)

Duty stations (categories A-E – there is also H for Headquarters or similar)

- A most secure/comfortable locations (around 10% successful applications will be external)
- E more remote/risky locations in lower resource settings (eg Yemen, Sudan)

Categories A-C you can be accompanied by family members, not categories D-E.

R&R (rest and recuperation) periods – vary according to nature of posting. In the most difficult settings you get 5 days out of country every 4 weeks.

Some routes into UN: YPP and JPO

YPP (Young Professionals Programme)
https://careers.un.org/lbw/home.aspx?viewtype=NCEWN&lang=en-US

Entry by examination, application (deadline last year 31 Oct, now indicating June/July)

- Must be under 32 years before taking exam
- Must be from a participating country (UK is not one) it is for countries that are under- or unrepresented in the United Nations
- Experience not required (but may be selection criterion)

JPO (Junior Professional Officer Programme)
https://careers.un.org/lbw/home.aspx?viewtype=AEP

- Must usually be under 32 years (but donor country rules vary)
- Must have at least 2 years' experience
- Must be from participating donor country

Other routes in Internships (seem scarce currently):

WHO – currently suspended (because of Covid);

UN – info here (but separate links to funds/ programmes mostly broken);

UNHCR – unpaid (info here)

UNOPS (info here)

Short term contracts.

Consultants roster (UN wide roster).

Salaried posts, maybe via country office first.

Example UN organisation: WHO

Leadership on global health matters and shapes research on the health agenda.

Bridge between research, ministries of health and those delivering – for example producing guidelines such as on AMR (something UK has asked the WHO to work on).

- Combines 6 health organisations with regional officers who are legally independent of HQ – they hire and fire independently of HQ.
- Can approach the regional offices directly higher chance of success if you are a national from that region.
- 151 country offices, high turnover of opportunities there.

What do WHO look for?

Breadth and variety of experience and discipline (more than 50% of people come from non-health related backgrounds).

A second language (after English) – French, Spanish, Russian, Chinese or Arabic especially useful (minority languages can be useful too).

Soft skills "you have to work under conditions of mission impossible and accomplish things in spite of those conditions". Task in "global health diplomacy".

- Teamwork
- Respecting and promoting individual and cultural differences
- Communication
- Knowing and managing yourself
- Producing results
- Moving forward in a challenging environment

Selection process is competency based and starts with the post rather than the person (ie identifying what is needed for that post).

Experience required, and tips for applying

For technical positions: several years of experience in that specialised area. International and developing country experience often required.

For management support: several years of experience in the same area (international experience an advantage).

Average age for joining WHO?

Tips for applying:

Apply persistently and repeatedly

Write one page letter highlighting just three points: your experience (other UN experience counts for a lot), your area of expertise (summed up in a sentence), why you would be an asset to WHO.

They use electronic pre-screening so make sure your application covers everything they require.

Example: UNFPA

UNFPA advocates for a world where every girl and woman is treated with dignity and respect. They promote the use of population data to reduce poverty and they provide life-saving support in humanitarian contexts. There is quite a lot of work with data, so they like statisticians and demographers. However, there is a lot of negotiating and diplomacy needed in this organisation as its work is highly controversial.

Controversial

- Women's rights (compared to traditions of some cultures) often controversial
- Especially access to family planning, access to abortion.

Employees say key quality needed is courage.

Politics can mean funding is volatile.

Example: WFP

Aim: to eliminate hunger by 2030

Relatively large proportion (for a UN organisation) of employees work in direct delivery, work is relatively 'operational' and 'quick'.

https://www.wfp.org/careers

Types of contract:

- International professionals highly skilled, mid-career, fixed-term, highly competitive
- National officers usually in your country of origin "the backbone of the organisation"
- Consultants/short term professionals (3-11 month contracts) usually highly skilled with specialist skills (didn't quite get in as International Professionals)
- JPOs highly skilled, usually at least 3 years' experience in field, sponsored by donor countries. More than 80% have 3-8 years' experience, 90% have a master's degree, 2% have a PhD
- WFP volunteers (mostly in Rome, but some in country offices) apply through website
- Future International Talent (FIT) pool (all currently closed)

Example: UN Volunteers

https://www.unv.org/become-volunteer

- International: register for Global Talent Pool (requirements: 25 or over, at least 2 years' professional experience, commitment to values and principles, ability to live and work in challenging settings – how do you demonstrate that?) details include profiles in demand
- National: minimum age 22, citizen (or refugee/stateless residing there legally) of country where UN is working
- Youth (NEW): maximum age 29 (normally not expected to have 2 years' experience).

International, national and youth volunteers receive a living allowance.

Also online volunteers:

Many part-time opportunities, including research, writing/editing, advocacy, project development and management

Insider insight

Jennifer Kealy:

- Current DrPH candidate;
- Consultant with WHO;
- Previous experience with WHO in Liberia (2009-2013) and with TB surveys group;
- Prior experience in pharma, biotech, an academic institute and an NGO;
- Clinical research (drugs/vaccines/diagnostics for NCDs and IDs).

11 general tips for building a career in an international organisation

(courtesy of Michael Emery, HR Director, IOM)

- 1. Qualifications (agencies vary a little, but many prefer a master's)
- 2. Documents (get the paperwork right). Be aware that funders such as DFiD are increasingly 'results orientated'.
- 3. Networking is vital
 - Tier 3 'passive networkers'
 - Tier 2 'active networkers'
 - Tier 1 'creative networkers' be one of those
- 4. Reputation management (not just your online presence but the way you behave towards colleagues 360)
- 5. Competencies (used for recruitment and performance management)
- 6. Job satisfiers (think about what satisfies you in a job)
- 7. Values (e.g. could you answer, "What are the three values that are most important to you and how do these values translate into your work?")

- 8. 'Opportunity scans' where are you most likely to find an opportunity?
- 9. EQ (emotional intelligence) the ability to fit. How aware are you of your cultural/personality coding?
- 10. Momentum most people join in their early 30s (NB WHO suggested 42...), have to build towards that.
- 11.Luck "when preparation meets opportunity" (Oprah), "The harder I work, the luckier I get" (Edison)

Core skills: agility, love, diversity, care.

Your situation, and possible next steps

Can you apply for 'in-country' posts in your country?

Would you consider yourself a Tier 1, 2 or 3 networker?

Could you afford to do an unpaid internship?

What languages do you speak?

How much experience do you already have?

Are UN jobs what you thought they were? Are you keen enough to persevere on this route?

What steps would bring you closer?

Which would be the most appropriate UN organisation for you?

What other organisations could you work for?!

Would YPP or JPO be potential route for you?

What are your values? Can you articulate them?

Other organisations

Look at destinations info on Moodle

(Marie Stopes International; Terrence Higgins Trust; WaterAid; GSK; KPMG; Boston Scientific; CHAI; Ministries of Health of various countries; MRC/UVRI Uganda Research Unit on Aids; Cancer Research; IQVIA; Anthony Nolan Trust; GOAL; MSF; Merlin; Action Against Hunger; Deaf Child Worldwide, Malaria Consortium...)

Get ideas from LinkedIn (LSHTM alumni)

Spotlight on selected employers - brief reports on 20 organisations:

Gain experience eg CHAI volunteers Indigo volunteers

What organisations are working in the area (geographical) or field (topic) that you care most about? What contacts do you have/can you make?

Further info

Folder of other resources on Careers with UN organisations – Careers Moodle - Exploring Career Options (recordings).

Also Careers Moodle - Career insights from alumni, employers and students

Questions and feedback please!

Coming up ...

LSE International Organisations Week – 1-6 Nov (all tickets now sold).

Lunchtime sessions after reading week – 1-1.30 pm:

Finding and funding a Phd – Tues 9 Nov and Fri 12 Nov (not Wed) session covers main routes into PhDs in the UK.

PhD applications– Tues 16 and Wed 17 Nov.

Job hunting strategies – Tues 30 Nov and Wed 1 Dec.

LinkedIn – why use it and how to get the most from it – Tues 7 and Wed 8 Dec.

Save the date

Global and Public Health Careers panel discussion – Wed 24 Nov at 5.30 pm (UK time)

Hear from a panel of speakers with experience in a range of health settings including:

- Milca Agbenou Medical Project Manager, Save the Children
- Simon Kadima Technical Officer, WHO Eastern Mediterranean (PH4D alumnus)
- Linda Markova Capacity Development Officer, NCD Alliance (HPPF alumna)

(further speakers to be confirmed)

Opportunity

Become a Careers Project Assistant (15 hours' paid work).

Organise a series of student-led careers seminars for Spring term.

More details here.