Autumn term careers programme

If you haven't already checked out our Autumn term careers events, view the programme here. Lunchtime workshops generally run Tuesday and Wednesday 13:00-13:30pm. Further details are in the listing below. We also recommend that you check the recordings section on Moodle for relevant resources or to see a recording of the event if you missed it. Click on Recordings of careers workshops and events and then select the relevant section

This week, we are focussing on Management Consultancy (see also the next item) with a session that helps you find out more about the sector plus a specialist careers fair run by UCL. A number of LSHTM students find management consultancy offers opportunities to use their skills and interests, whether in niche, health-related consultancies or the bigger strategy businesses. You might also like to check out consultancy related recordings in the Career insights section which includes panel events (Roles using data to drive public policy and strategy), employer talks (e.g. Costello Medical or Options, which is the consultancy subsidiary of Marie Stopes International) and Alumni talks (e.g. Amira El-Houderi at EY; Natalie Moyon at Mott Macdonald).

Next week, we are focussing on the UK Public Health Training Scheme, the only UK medical specialty open to non-clinicians. We'll outline what it is and the application process as well as offer insight from current participants on the scheme.

Please see the details and links below for the next two weeks and, as always, check Moodle for any updates or changes to the programme and to find the links to join sessions. For most live online events, we aim to run these twice, at lunchtime, to ensure they are accessible for as many people as possible. All details for events below are UK time (UTC).

Call out for volunteers!

Thanks to those of you who have volunteered to join us for our workshop sessions this year. It's a great chance to share your knowledge and experience with others who are interested in these career areas. We still have spaces on some of our sessions so would like to put a call out again for volunteers to join us in the following:

UK Public Health Training Scheme: Tues, 17 Oct 13:00 - 13:30 and Wed, 18 Oct 13:00 - 13:30. This session is an introduction to the only one of the medical specialties which is open to non-medics. We would love to invite volunteers who are currently on the scheme, preferably one doctor and one non-doctor, for each of the sessions, to offer a personal perspective on the scheme. If you and/or any other students you know who are on the training programme would be able to take part, or would like to know more, please email careers@lshtm.ac.uk. You do not have to do any preparation or prepare slides.

Careers with UN organisations: Wed, 1 Nov 13:00 - 13:30. We would love to have a volunteer for this session who can offer brief personal insight into working for one or more UN organisations. It can be at any level (last time one of our speakers had been a UN volunteer) and does not require any preparation or slides.

If you are interested or would like to find out more before you commit, please email us asap at careers@lshtm.ac.uk.

Look out for a fascinating external event at LSE!

The LSE Discover International Organisations event offers a limited number of tickets for LSHTM students to attend. It takes place on Saturday, 4 November, with the timeline and list of international organisations to be confirmed in the next Newsletter.

To secure a place you will need to book tickets online direct from LSE and then we will arrange to reimburse the cost once LSE have confirmed you did attend. Tickets will be strictly limited and will be available on a first come, first served basis. Once we have been given the event timetable and booking link from LSE we will announce in advance when booking will be open. We will post this information on Moodle (in the 'Forthcoming workshops and events' section). We will also ask people to confirm they've attended by providing key points from at least three sessions attended and you will need to submit this feedback in order to get the refund.
