

Looking for a Statistician role in the field of healthcare?

Our Statistics service offering is rapidly growing and we have exciting opportunities for Statisticians and Statistician Interns to join our friendly and collaborative team.

In this role you will provide statistical and analytical expertise to a range of clients in the pharmaceutical and medical devices sector, performing feasibility assessments, devising statistical analysis plans and conducting data analysis to aid with interpretation of key data and strategic decision making.

You will then be responsible for communicating these methodologies and results in both written and oral formats to clients and stakeholders. Our analyses vary across patient-level clinical trial data, observational study data, real-world data and published aggregate data, and your work will involve a range of techniques such as basic statistical analysis of individual patient data, regression analysis, survival analysis and Bayesian network meta-analysis using both standard and emerging methods.
